

Ramona Singer Caught In A Lie: Ramona Lied In Front Of 'RHONY' Co-Stars

Ramona Singer decided to film this new season of The Real Housewives of New York after divorcing her husband, even though she knew that it would be an emotional ride. Just last season, Singer learned that her husband had been having an affair and she was emotionally distraught. She shut down Andy Cohen during the reunion, saying that she wasn't ready to talk about it.

But it sounds like Ramona Singer wanted to find herself after the affair came to the surface. Singer has been working on herself and, apparently, a doctor has been working on her, as well. On this week's episode of The Real Housewives of New York, Ramona was asked by her co-stars if she had gotten a boob job done. Ramona denied it, but it sounds like she was caught in a lie.

According to a new Radar Online report, Ramona Singer opens up about having her breasts done in her new book, Life on the Ramona Coaster. The book will be released this upcoming week, but excerpts have been released in advance. And in one of those, Singer admits to having work done.

"I've never had any surgery on my face, but I recently did have my breasts done," Ramona Singer reveals in her book, adding, "I went to see [Dr. \[Sharon\] Giese](#) and she didn't even want to do them. She said, 'You have great breasts. They're better than most women half your age.'"

"Some women go crazy and get huge implants, but I didn't want to be bigger. I just wanted to enhance what I already had. I was always a 34C and I'm still a 34C... I didn't want to be top heavy, I just wanted to be more enhanced," Ramona reveals about her more natural look, adding, "It was a fairly quick procedure and I went home that day. The truth is that getting my breasts done was the right choice for me when the time came. The most important thing is that you feel as healthy on the inside as you look on the outside."

And Ramona Singer admits to sticking her co-stars with a little white lie. Of course, Singer is known for her great skin and her skincare line, but it sounds like she needed a little lift. According to the Inquisitr, Singer was devastated after Mario's affair. She claims she did contemplate suicide, and her co-stars may understand why she has been acting out all season long.

"At that point I hadn't decided if I wanted to tell anyone, but I've always been honest about the work I've had done and I don't believe it's anything to be ashamed of," she reveals.

Are you surprised Ramona Singer lied to her co-stars?
